STRATEGY, INVESTMENT, PARTNERING
& DEAL MAKING FOR NORDIC LIFE
SCIENCE EXECUTIVE LEADERS

6-8 September 2021

Investor and Strategic Preferences

Introduction

The Nordic region has long produced world-leading science and innovation. From spin-outs and start-ups, to growth-stage, soonicorns and unicorns, this is an extremely exciting time for the region, the breadth of technologies being developed and the companies developing them.

What follows in this document is a selection of 100+ equity and strategic investors that have active mandates in investing and supporting life science and healthcare companies across the Nordic region, from drug discovery / design to on-the-market, and everything in between.

For the purpose of this report we've aggregated and summarised the investment preferences of these firms and highlighted which therapeutic and technology areas are attracting the most attention right now.

Their contributions to the ongoing development of biotech, healthtech, medtech and deeptech companies in this region cannot be overlooked and if you are not already connected with these firms, they should be on your radar.

These 100+ investors and strategics make up the present cohort of attendees to the LSX Nordic Congress: Virtual event taking place online, across the 7-8 September.

Opportunities exist to engage, network, and pitch to these and the hundreds more in September.

Check out details of participation at the end of this report.

What is LSX Nordic Congress Virtual

---

LSX's Nordic Congress: Virtual is a c-level, online showcase and partnering experience designed to provide a platform for life science companies to engage hundreds of international investors, strategic partners and key stakeholders.

- An unrivalled opportunity to pitch, profile and connect with key industry stakeholders
- A powerful four-day virtual experience facilitating partnerships and collaborations for healthcare transformation
- Live-streamed investor, strategic partner, corporate and stakeholder keynotes and panels
- Executive-level, on-demand panels and interactive CEO Forums
- Dozens of company investment showcases and virtual company booths
- AI-powered, video-enabled 1:1 partnering across four-full days
- Informal networking and breakouts for those serendipitous connections

Social distancing practices around the world have shown just how productive digital working methods can be, and we are confident LSX Nordic Congress: Virtual will deliver equal, if not greater value as attending one of our physical investment and partnering events.

Key benefits of involvement:

- Access a mix of live, on-demand and interactive content sessions across the two days and available for the entire month of September
- Arrange dozens of qualified, video-enabled meetings from the comfort of your office / home office to fit in with your own schedules
- Deliver a pre-recorded showcase, viewable by hundreds of life science stakeholders
- Host a virtual booth with live chat functionality to help demonstrate
